M'CLOSKEY COMPANY GETS INSTRUCTIONS ON WILLARD BATTERIES

The McCloskey Auto company now know more about the wonderful workings of the Willard batteries, since the visit of G. L. Barrett, than they ever did before. Mr. Barrett is the factory representative of the Willard Storage Battery company, Cleveland, Ohio, the McCloskey company being the local agency. Mr. Barrett's visit was official, and he instructed the McCloskey force how to work the batteries the quickest and safest way, and to save time. He also gave instructions as to the care and re-forming of all batteries. The McCloskey company placed an order with Mr. Barrett for special tools for the Willard batteries. J. Chaire McCloskey, manager of the local company, expects to leave for Cleveland, Ohio, some time this week, where he will get in touch with the Willard batteries at the factory.

'SINS OF MEN' AT THE PASTIME THEATER

"Sins of Men," the vital problem picture just released by William Fox, is based on a novel theme, the publication of a book by one of the characters on "Myself," a new philosophy, the creed of selfishness. The author's daughter, a part taken by Dorothy Bernard, one of the stars, is involved with a relative of the publisher of the book, a role acted by Stuart Holmes, who in this film acts as co-star for the first time in Fox pictures, in which he previously has taken villain parts.

The false doctrines of the philosopher's book are spread to all members of the two families involved in its authorship or publication, bringing ruin, disgrace and deep sorrow. Incidental to the plot typical German home life is shown, the author being an old German philosopher of the romantic type, his daughter, through his earnings, becoming a fashionable young woman of city life.

Even an adopted daughter of the old German falls a victim to the doctrines of "Myself." Her father, learning of her downfall, kills the author of the book. But the teachings of "Myself" continue to bring sin and suffering through selfishness until the characters are by one fall victims to their selfish desires.

The attraction is scheduled for the Pastime today and tomorrow.

THE BLINDNESS OF LOVE NOW AT LYRIC THEATER

Julius Steger, the eminent dramatic star, will be seen on the screen here at the Lyric theater today and tomorrow in "The Blindness of Love," a strong Metro wonderplay in five acts. The story of this feature is in keeping with the types that have made Mr. Steger famous as a supreme artist of pathos and tenderness. He essays the role of an itinerant piano tuner, after his fortune has been swept away through the profligacy of a son, to whom he is blindly devoted. Mr. Steger is supported by an unusually strong cast in which George Le Guere, the noted juvenile actor, and Grace Valentine an artist of rare ability, are featured. Others in the cast include Walter Hitchcock, Edgar E. Davenport, Mand Hill, Charles E. Gotthold and Harry Neville. "The Blindness of Love" promises to be one of the distinct novelties of the season. It was produced by the Rolfe Photoplays Inc., under the direction of Charles Hearn.

HAWAIIANS ARE COMING

The celebrated Hawaiian Troubadors, who are to appear at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Wednesday evening, June 28, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., will be one of the most novel musical attractions brought to this city for some time. The musicians are educated, high class natives of the Hawaiian islands and bring with them the costumes and instruments used in their island homes half way around the world. Moreover they have the unmatchable airs of the tropics which have never been duplicated by imitators of the Hawaiian style of harmony.

They will use the uke-kele and the steel guitar, two distinctly native instruments, in their string quartet; and the native dancing girl will add the steps of some of their remarkable dances to the program.

If you enjoy good music and a delightful evening's entertainment you should not fail to see their "Night in Beautiful Hawaii."

MOST MODERN IN ALL THE ESSENTIAL DETAILS IS 'THE WASHINGTON'

Patterned after some of the "best" in the eastern and western cities and even improved on in certain details, the "Washington Apartments," which are being erected at Tenth street and Central avenue by J. D. Eakin and under the supervision of Architect La Driere, when completed, will present to Albuquerque the finest, best equipped for the purposes intended and the most modern to be found anywhere in the southwest, in fact, in any city three times as large as Albuquerque.

It is the intention of the general contractor, Wallace Heggelsen, to have the apartments so nearly completed as to warrant turning the keys over to Mr. Eakin by August 1, and Mr. Eakin will welcome that time, because a number of the apartments have already been spoken for and applicants are eager to move in and get themselves conveniently established, so they can laugh at winter's coldest day, as each apartment will be comfortably and evenly heated by steam.

The building, two stories in height, sets on five lots and there are twenty-three apartments, with an independent bath room for the occupants of the building and invited friends, divided as follows: Four 4-rooms, eight 3-rooms and eleven 2-rooms, and the upstairs apartments are an exact counterpart of the lower floor apartments. All are treated alike—Mr. Eakin has no favorites, not even in the country—think, he and wife will occupy—and in consequence livable with the other modern conveniences and that includes kitchenette and bathroom will materially aid in putting a cliffed atmosphere in each apartment. In the rear, resting on Tenth street, there are five garages for the automobiles, and in front of the garages a driveway will be constructed, and in front of this, in a triangular piece of ground, a lawn will be made. The views from both the front and rear of the apartments are pleasing to the eye. On the Central avenue side of the building, and directly over the archway, the name of the apartments will appear, with a bust in white of "Washington."

As announced above the general contractor is Wallace Heggelsen, but William Beachamp is doing the plumbing, the Nash Electrical Supply company the wiring, and the painting by C. C. Noremman.
